

Application for Publication and Binding

Aspen University holds to the tradition that you are encouraged as a member of the scholarly community to make your research available to interested persons. This recommendation is met when you submit your dissertation for publication to external indices or journals.

You may also decide to bind your dissertation so that you can have a hard copy of your research study. To access the forms and complete the binding process, send the email at the following address: mail@phdbookbinding.com